Development mode

Development mode is a Windows device configuration that is intended for use by developers and advanced users. Enabling Development mode can expose the device to potential security vulnerabilities.
Creating a new Development mode policy

To create a new Development mode policy:

1. From the Device Posture tab, select + ADD:

2. Select Add to Windows.

   The Add new device policy to Windows dialog appears.

   > | Note
   >
   > The Development mode device policy is currently supported for Windows devices.

3. Select Development mode from the Select policy type dropdown.